

Integrated Management System Policy

We are system integrators carrying out large-scale turnkey projects in various fields of telecommunications, security, fire alarm, automation and associated systems for oil & gas, commercial, industrial, and defense sectors of Oman and GCC.

The Management of Al Asateen is keen to implement and maintain an Integrated Management System compliant to ISO 9001:2008, OHSAS 18001:2007, ISO 14001:2004 standard requirements and other applicable legal requirements. Al Asateen shall strive to continually improve the effectiveness of its Integrated Management System by consistently reviewing its IMS objectives and IMS policy for continuing suitability.

The Management of Al Asateen ensures this policy is well communicated, understood, implemented and maintained throughout the organization. The key objects of our company policy:

- Compliance with all relevant international standards, laws and regulations;
- To achieve highest level of customer satisfaction;
- Ensuring that the necessary competent personnel, infrastructure and operating processes are in place to service the business needs of the company;
- Providing adequate information, training and supervision to ensure a well-trained competent workforce adopting best industry practices.
- Setting and reviewing effective and measurable objectives and targets for continual improvement;
- Preventing pollution through effective control measures,
- Provide a safe and healthy environment in order to ensure safe working conditions to prevent injury and ill health of all company employees and other interested parties, by defining HSE process, objectives, procedures, communications and delegation of duties and responsibilities.

We require all our employees and suppliers to adhere strictly to our policy at all times.
